How Does The Architecture Of Schools And Churches Differ Among The 8 Innate Groups Of People?

Jun 8, 2024 — in Publications

Over a period of time, we have tried to collect various photos of schools and churches, which according to our typology can demonstrate differences in architecture among 8 innate groups of people. These differences are subtly related to their character and thinking. Despite the illustrative nature of this list, there is a logical connection in the details. So for anyone interested in the topic of architecture and the differences in these innate groups of people, and the connection to their stable inner character – welcome to this new publication:

Classical Styles Of Schools And Churches Of 8 Groups Of People

When a person remembers his childhood, he probably remembers his school where he studied with joy, sadness or resentment. Some people had one school for their whole life, some people changed different schools. But is there any correlation in the details, between the appearance of a school (its style of architecture) and eight innate groups … Continue reading
